About the District

Dixon Unit School District is comprised of 3 Attendance Centers with 400 students each. A Middle School of 600 students and a High School of 800 students. The district also houses and climates a 125 student Pre-K and Early Childhood program in the west wing of the Reagan Middle School.

There are 173 full time Teachers, 120 full time Educational Support Personnel, and 10 full time Administrators.

All classes taught in the Dixon Public Schools are taught by highly qualified Teachers and 78% of those Teachers have a Master's Degree or beyond. Student's with special needs are included in all regular education experiences as appropriate for the child. The district offers gifted and accelerated classes from grades 3-8 and honors, advances placement and dual credit classes for high school students. Grades 5-12 also have a full array of intramural and interscholastic athletic opportunities.

The average class size at the elementary level is 19.3 and the secondary level is 22.8.

Financially, the district has positive fund balances in all of the funds and has earned a 3.90 financial profile designation out of a possible 4.00. District per pupil spending is less than the state average and the state standardized test scores are at or above state averages.

The Dixon Public Schools provides a warm and caring atmosphere for all students where the primary objective is that all students are learning.
